Forty Hours Devotion Opens Monday At 4:30

The traditional Forty Hours Devotion in honor of the Blessed Sacrament will be held at St. Michael's Feb. 18 to 20.

The devotion will open Monday with a procession before the 4:30 p.m. Mass in the chapel. Celebrant of the Mass will be Rev. Paul A. Morin, S.S.E., dean of studies at the college.

For the closing Mass Wednesday at 4:30, the celebrant will be the Very Rev. Jeremiah T. Purtill, S.S.E., superior general of the Society of St. Edmund and former academic dean at the college.

In the opening and closing processions, participants will include the clergy, faculty, seniors, class presidents, club presidents and the Arnold Air Society. The Adoration hours have been assigned on Monday to Founders Hall, on Tuesday to the Sophomores and Juniors and on Wednesday to the Freshmen.

The student committee is headed by Robert Etherson, the Arnold Air Society chairman is John E. Reilly and the Holy Name Society chairman is Wilfred P. Turgeon.

Counterspy Philbrick Talks Wednesday

On Feb. 20, at 8:00 P.M. in Austin Hall, St. Michael's College Student Forum Lecture Series will present Mr. Herbert A. Philbrick speaking on "Zero Hour For America".

Herbert Philbrick, citizen, "communist" and counterspy, is a man who, according to Time Magazine, "postponed his own life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness to get to the bottom of the great communist conspiracy in the U.S."

In 1940, he was a young advertising executive on the threshold of a fine career. Recently married, he was active in community and church affairs. He soon discovered that Communists had very quietly taken over the reins of a suburban youth group which he headed outside of Boston, Mass. After consulting the FBI, he made the difficult decision to stay. Philbrick let himself apparently be argued over to the communist way of thinking. He joined the Young Communist League in 1942 and two years later he was invited to join the party. After taking this fateful step, Philbrick gradually rose in the Party ranks until he was made a member of the Pro-4 group, which masterminded Communist strategy in the area.

Herbert Philbrick

KEY WITNESS

In 1949, his testimony at the trial of eleven top U.S. Communists cracked the Communist defense, and brought into the open the existence of the Pro-4 group, which was unknown, at the time Philbrick revealed it at the Foley Square trial, even to rank and file Communist party members.

Philbrick is continuing to battle U.S. Communists and their insidious influences in many ways even today. In his lectures he describes how he saw the "fronts" set up, involving reputable and innocent Americans.

Television has also proven an effective medium for Philbrick's exposure of the workings of the communists. The program based on his book, "I Led Three Lives" show in the country, an unprecedented achievement for a documentary.

SYNDICATED

Philbrick has written two books - "I Led 3 Lives," and "The Queer Fish." "I Led 3 Lives," became an overnight best-seller and was serialized in the New York Herald Tribune and in over 100 newspapers throughout the country. In his Herald Tribune syndicated column, "The Red Underground", he reached millions of other Americans and often exposed the secret plans of the communists.

In his continuing job of exposing Communists, Philbrick is also kept on call by Congressional investigating committees and has appeared before the Senate Internal Security Committee and the Subversive Activities Control Board appointed by the President.

Philbrick now owns and operates a country store in New Hampshire. He lives there with his wife, five daughters and one son.

Comedy Of Errors' Will Be Staged Twice In April

by Michael Dudley

On April 3 and 4 St. Michael's will present its first full length Shakespearean production of the year, "The Comedy of Errors," under the supervision of Mr. Donald Rathgeb.

The play, as Mr. Rathgeb explained in an interview, is not one of the critics' favorites. It is, however, extremely funny and should serve as a good introduction to Shakespeare for both cast and audience alike. It was one of Shakespeare's first comedies, and his only farce.

The difficulties for such a production are many and varied, not the least of which is the casting of five female parts, but hopes are that Trinity College will provide us with some convincing actresses.

Mr. Rathgeb is no stranger to Shakespeare, this being his ninth Shakespearean production. His other plays have also included Shakespearean comedies such as, "Much Ado About Nothing" and "Twelfth Night."

Tryouts for this presentation were held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week and the cast will be announced later.

5 Sophomores To Hike 50 Miles

In line with President Kennedy's fitness program , five Michaelmen will hike from the College to Vergennes and back, a distance of 50 miles.

The quintet will leave at 3 P.M. on Saturday, and return early Sunday morning. The time limit is set at 20 hours which includes a finish of a 200 yard trot and a 100 yard sprint. All of these hardy, adventurous Michaelmen are Sophomores. The team includes Jim Whitman, Dennis Braiden, Al Sirica, Bill Troy and Pat Ryan

The target time for return is before 9 A.M. Sunday, in order to surpass the feat of Bob Kennedy, the Attorney General, who turned in a excellent performance earlier this week. The record of Pierre Salinger is considered out of reach by the hikers. They won't even attempt it.

Glee Club To Travel To R.I., Conn. For Weekend Concerts

by James McMahon

The St. Michael's College Glee Club travels this weekend to Newport, Rhode Island, to present a joint concert at Salve Regina College on Saturday evening, Feb. 16, at 8:15. Highlighted on the program will be Offenbach's "La Belle Helene" (sung in French) and some of Brahms' beautiful "Liebeslieder Walzes" (in German). Both of these pieces will be presented jointly by the two clubs.

The concert will also feature music which each glee club will present by itself. Among the numbers to be presented by St. Michael's will be the stirring "Prisoners Chorus" from Beethoven's opera "Fidelio," and the duet, with orchestral accompaniment, from Bach's "Cantata 125."

On Sunday the St. Michael's Glee Club will travel to New London, Conn., to sing a benefit for the St. Edmund's Novitiate in Mystic, Connecticut. It will be an afternoon concert at 3, including presentations by the Novitiate Choir.

MONTREAL GIRLS

On Sunday evening, March 3, shortly after February vacation, the Playhouse will be the scene of a joint concert presented by our glee club and the women's chorus of "L'Ecole Normale de Musique" of Montreal. The two groups have sung together in the past, but this concert will bring the Canadian group to St. Michael's for the first time.

THE MICHAELMAN will not be published during the next two weeks. The next issue will appear March 9. Remaining issues for the year are scheduled for March 9, 16, 23, 30; April 6; and May 4, 11.

Annual Washington Trip Slated By Politics Club

by John Howe

Once again the Politics Club at St. Michael's has arranged for some of its members to take the annual trip to our nation's capitol.

The students, accompanied by Prof. George Olgyay of the Political Science Department, will visit the various organs of the Federal Government including the House of Representatives, the Senate, the Mint, the CIA, the White House, etc.

The group will be leaving campus February 20 and will travel to Washington by car. They plan to stay in Washington for three nights. The Student Forum has allotted funds for rooms, transportation and food to the Politics Club making the journey possible.

In the words of Mike Smith, vice-president of the club, the purpose of the trip is "to serve as an informative basis for a true evaluation of the workability of the federal government and its agencies. And to give the student a first hand look at possible career opportunities."

A Needed Change

Mid-winter holidays will begin Thursday. This marks the first time since the students returned to classes after the Christmas vacation that we have had at least one day off from classes, excluding of course, Sundays and any cuts by individual students.

After this recess, the next break is scheduled for April 10 with the Easter vacation. Each of these holidays are seven weeks apart. At the beginning of the academic year the students attended classes for nine-and-a half weeks without having a single weekend off. The two one-day holidays fell on Thursdays and as a consequence students were not able to go home during this period without incurring class absences.

Last week the office of the Dean of Studies announced that any class absence on Saturdays will be considered a double absence. The official notice was prompted by the large number of Michaelmen who were cutting classes on Saturdays especially during the last few weeks.

We grant that the Administration had a reasonable motive for acting. However, we regret the negative approach taken to remedy the situation. Analyzing the situation from the students' point of view, it can readily be seen that the students underwent the mid-year examinations after returning from the Christmas vacation while at the same time they had to attend regular classes during the examination period. Since there was no weekend off even at the end of the semester, a large number of students decided to take a weekend off as soon as their exams were over in order to rest and release the tension they had gone through.

The situation next year will not be so critical to students as it has been this year. Fortunately, most of the one-day holidays fall on weekends, thus permitting Michaelmen to go home more often. (For a detailed story on next year's academic calendar, refer to the article on page 3.) But the situation will return to this year's condition when these holidays fall again during week days.

We are of the opinion that the situation can be permanently corrected by transferring any holiday which might fall during the week to the preceding or following Saturday and having classes on the particular holiday itself. In this way students would be free to go home, skiing or what not during the weekend. We know of several colleges which have tried this idea with excellent results. Why not give us an opportunity to see how it would work at St. Michael's? And by all means, let us have a weekend off between semesters!

Returning to the coming mid-winter break, have fun and enjoy yourself, but please, drive carefully. We want to see you back.

FROM THE LILLY PAD

by Bob Lilly

Well, the girls have all left for home by now (one week later) so those still remaining on campus after a hectic Winter Carnival are able to sit back and take stock of the occurrences.

Friday night was fairly uneventful and quite enjoyable with the Coachmen making some friendly pokes at the Trinity girls present and Art Kohler running around supervising a balloon twist.

Saturday afternoon at Stowe proved very interesting to at least three couples when they were stranded three quarters of the way up Mount Mansfield on the double chair lift. Soon help came however, when five ski patrol members arrived with ropes and freed the unlucky ones. They then had to climb to the top and ride the single lift down. The word is that there were some cold feet among the group.

Sunday morning came and with it the announcement of the winners of the snow sculpture contest. Surprisingly enough, for all except the Juniors, the "moose" won, followed by the house with no windows and a bumpy roof. There was a tie for third between the rabbit and the dinosaur with headlights.

Snow and cold weather - definitely don't help the people on campus that drive or own cars. It's quite a sight every morning to see half of the cars being pushed or jumped by the other half, - if that many start without help!

It seems that the Holy Name sponsored cards in the dining room are good for many things. Not only can you say grace now but you can use the card to write notes on or even to dry your tray with. Wonderful work that the Holy Name is doing to think of the students enough to go out of the way to help them.

There seems to be a discrepancy in the results of the interclass basketball season. The Junior Class has the best overall record but didn't even make the play-off game. The Seniors who were second in the overall won-lost record played the Sophomores who placed third in the season. The Sophomore class went on to beat the Seniors in the play-off game and win the championship. Figure that out if you can.

What time is it? Every clock in every building on campus shows a different time and the result is mass confusion. And not only that but each clock shows the wrong time. Take an ordinary day, for instance. You come to the dining room only to find that you missed breakfast by ten minutes so you hurry to your 8:30 class and have to wait fifteen minutes before it begins.

This goes on all day until you are either locked in the Bookstore or forced to leave at closing time and then have to wait five minutes before the Dining Hall opens. The book store closes at 4:30 and the Dining Hall opens at the same time, but evidently by different clocks.

The MICHAELMAN extends its condolences to Mrs. Betty Martelle who lost her mother this week and to Mrs. Lois Chicoine who lost her father. R.I.P.

Knights of Columbus Begin Membership Drive

by Fred Richetelli

The Knights of Columbus have announced the beginning of its spring membership drive, under the guidence of Senior Richard Santora.

Members of the Knights will conduct a room-to-room campaign in order to secure prospective members for what is hoped to be the largest incoming class since the establishment of the council on campus.

Already The Knights of Columbus have built themselves up into the biggest and most active club on the campus. They have won considerable recognition throughout the nation for their high percentage of membership.

They have been successful also in staging several charitable functions, providing entertainment and gifts for the orphans at Halloween and Christmastime, as well as procuring guest lecturers for the enjoyment and benefit of the whole student body.

As a Knight, one becomes a member of a fraternity dedicated to defending and setting good examples for the Catholic Church. As a Knight one may share in the fruits provided by the several clubhouses throughout the nation as well as the newly begotten one on campus. Finally, as a Knight one may secure for himself an insurance policy that will prove most advantageous and benefitting in later life.

Membership in the K. of C. continues to benefit one long after his college career is over and it is hoped that each non-member will give serious consideration to joining.

S.S.E. Expands Operations; Plans First S.A. Mission

by Padraic K. Ryan

The Society of St. Edmund has announced plans to send volunteers to South America.

Very Rev. Jeremiah T. Purtill, S.S.E., the superior general, and Very Rev. Cymard P. Galligan, S.S.E., the Director of the Selma Missions, will visit prospective sites starting on February 27.

The Society, a missionary order, was given further encouragement by the recent Ecumenical Council. Pope John requested that a small percentage of each religious order should be sent to Latin America to fill the severe lack of priests, brothers, and sisters in those areas.

The sites that the Fathers will visit are Lima, Peru; Antofagasta, and Santiago, Chile; Buenos Aires, Argentina; and Caracas, Venezuela.

By summer, the exact location will be made known. The aim is to obtain a poor urban parish to be administered in the beginning solely by four Edmundites.

The decision to establish a foreign mission was made by the Society in 1960 and the parish will be in full operation in 1964.

This will be the first time since the Order came to the United States in the late 19th century that they will send missionaries to non-English speaking countries.

The society has maintained teaching, parish, and missionary works throughout the United States, England, Canada and France, where the Order had its beginnings in 1843.

Philosophy Dept. Will Organize Campus Club

by William Troy

The Philosophy Department has decided, as have many other departments, to sponsor an organization for those who might have an extracurricular interest in the particular course of study.

However, it is different from the other clubs on campus in that it is not really a club, that is, it is not given a budget or eligible for funds from the Student Forum. It is merely an extension of the academic work undertaken in the classroom.

The reason for this is that it allows the Brothers of the Society of St. Edmund to join, and since they are all philosophy majors, it is of primary interest to them. The moderator of this organization is Mr. John Doyle and interested parties may contact him for more information.

The Philosophy Department will once more sponsor a panel discussion on March 7 at 7:45 P.M. in the Playhouse. The panel this year will consist of the lay members of the Philosophy department: Messrs. Burke, Gianelli, Doyle, and Case. The tentative topic for the discussion is "Is Man Free?". Following this there will be a general question and answer period open to the members of the audience.

Tanganyikan On Tanganyika

by Wenceslaus Kilama

Tanganyika, one of the greatest of the African nations, has encountered western culture for less than a century. In 1881, the country became a German colony; and after the First World War, Great Britain undertook the administration of the country under the mandate of the League of Nations.

In 1949, Tanganyika became a Trust Territory under the United Nations with Great Britain as the administrator.

Our recent history is dominated by political unity and constitutional progress. The first elections for representatives in the legislature were held in 1958, and the second elections were held in 1960, both giving an overwhelming majority to the Tanganyika African National Union (TANU).

Complete independence was attained on December 9th, 1961; and exactly a year later, we became a Republic within the Commonwealth of Nations, with Dr. Julius K. Nyerere (who won 98% of the presidential votes) president of TANU, and the father of our nation as the first president.)

The greatest problems facing our country are: Ignorance, poverty, and disease. The colonial administrators professed in the motto, "Let a sleeping dog lie."

But since the cry for freedom, we realized our role in our mother country. Educational facilities are being enormously increased. In 1958, only 218 students were attending college, now the number has more than tripled. Health services have been doubled.

But as to the economy, the trend, though upward, has been sluggish; thus Tanganyika is keenly encouraging investments from the Tanganyikans and people abroad.

Despite all the efforts involved, the per capita income still remains at a low of $60 per annum.

We are quite aware of this, thus, our motto, "Uhuru na Kazi" meaning "Freedom and Work". Whereas the colonial administration disposed the people to the "don't care" attitude, now the national wide ambition is to be constructive and reproductive. Throughout the nation, illustrious self help schemes are remarkably working in such fields as building schools, hospitals, social centres, co-operatives, roads, wells, churches; and evening schools for the three R's.

One of the assets for Tanganyika's future is acquiring the know-how. Thus students are encouraged to procure it at home and abroad. In them lies an inspiration for the nation's great heritage.

Placement Office Sets Spring Interview Dates

by Jerry Fox

The placement program for 1963 will be moving into high gear at the end of this month and continuing on into March.

Under the direction of Mr. Philip Howrigan, placement director, representatives from various companies will interview Seniors in regard to employment after graduation. To date, 36 Seniors have registered for interviews and more are expected to do so by the time the meetings take place. His office is near the west entrance to Alliot.

Those who are to be interviewed however, will have a variety of firms to choose from. The concerns that will be represented on campus will offer a wide range of opportunities to interested and qualified students.

Mr. Howrigan says that these companies are looking for "the all around student." First and most important, they want to see good marks. They also desire a student with leadership potential, responsibility, aggressiveness and social poise.

At this point, Mr. Howrigan offered a constructive critisism on this subject of interviews. He said that there has been a "tendency towards superficiality" exhibited by many of the past candidates during the interviews. Many Students have never made a serious assessment of their own capabilities and therefore cannot "sell" the interviewers on what they have to offer. The student should have a clear idea of what he is looking for and his ability to attain it, as well as an idea of what the company wants.

In order to better acquaint Michaelmen with opportunities after graduation, the placement department has a reference library of current literature on the topic. This literature also covers both graduate school programs and opportunities for employment.

INTERVIEWS

Interviews are scheduled as follows:

Mon., Feb. 18, Aetna Casualty, Mr. Harvey Goodchild;

Wed., Feb. 20, Swift & Co., Mr. Libby;

Wed., Feb. 27, N.E. Tel. & Tel. Co., Mr. W.R. Dengelmayer;

New College Catalogue Marks Changes In Vacations, Faculty

by Kirk R. Weixel

From the galley sheets of the 1963-64 St. Michael's College Catalogue, which will be available March 1, there are several changes pertinent to the St. Michael's undergraduate and graduate.

Many new names appear in this catalogue that did not appear in the previous one: Mr. Gerald Albert, Instructor in Sociology; Mr. John Engels, Assistant Professor of English; Mr. Robert Henault, Assistant Professor of Education; Captain John Leary, Assistant Professor of Air Science; Mr. David McDermott, Assistant Professor of Biology; Mr. Cyril Sloane, Instructor in Art; Mr. Donald Rathgeb, Instructor in Drama.

There is also the addition of five doctorates: Fr. D'Agostino, Dr. Giroux, Dr. Williams, Mrs. Henault, and Dr. Morris. Mr. Francis Stewart expects his Ph.D. in English this June, and Mr. Richard Callan will leave St. Michael's at the end of this year, returning in 1964 with his doctorate in Spanish.

The catalogue will also show several advances in position. To professor: Dr. Citarella and Lt. Colonel Jacobs; to assistant professor: Mr. Callan and Fr. Armand Couture.

Additions to the summer school program are: Mr. Cyril Sloane, giving studio and alfresco instruction in the field of Art.

A Master of Arts degree in Theology and one in the teaching of English as a foreign language have been added, and Dr. Thomas Brown will return as visiting professor in American Studies. The campus concert series will begin its third year this summer. Full courses for undergraduate school will be offered during the summer. Some courses to note are Business 102 and 206, and Humanities 302.

Vacations next year will be distributed to near perfection. All Saint's Day, November 1, falls on a Friday and no classes will be held Saturday, giving students a long weekend. Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays will be the same as last year, but the Mid-winter break will come on February 7, due to an early Easter vacation starting March 25.

Normally, there would be no vacation from the time of the student's return from Easter, April 6, until Commencement Day, June 7. However, next year Ascention Thursday falls on May 7, St. Michael's Day on May 8, and no classes will be held Saturday, May 9. Thus, the student is allotted time for a short trip home.

STUDENT FORUM

by Bill Eagan

This week saw the least colorful meeting of the Student Forum thus far this year. There were only two motions introduced from the floor. Though the meeting itself was colorless, the first of these motions promises future color and student interest.

Mr. Smith moved that the Student Welfare Committee investigate the motivation behind the recent introduction of double cuts on Saturdays. The motion was brought about by a considerable degree of student resentment.

It was suggested that the reason for this new ruling is the law of supply and demand. Since there is a greater demand for Saturday cuts, it is only natural that the price should be raised.

The other explanation of the new policy was that the administration is trying to cover up for its own failure to instill a thirst for knowledge in the student body. The incidence of class cuts in classes that offer something worthwhile is considerably smaller than in classes that offer nothing at all. Thus the student is penalized for the normal human reaction of avoiding useless objects.

The Student Welfare Committee was asked by Mr. Frank Lytle, to investigate the possibility of allowing cars to be parked behind Alumni Hall.

Mr. Jim Dyer announced that the Junior Class now leads in the Inter-class competition. They have 142 1/2 points, followed by the Seniors 127 1/2, the Sophomores 92 1/2, and the Freshmen 17 1/2.

Medical, Dental, Law Schools Accept Thirteen

by Robert Rinaldi

Senior Biology Concentrators seem to have done very well adapting to the whim of graduate schools.

Thirteen students have already been admitted to various schools around the country.

Seven others were admitted to dental school last year after their junior year.

In this, St. Michael's College continues its record as one of the most successful colleges in preparing students for grad work.

The six students who have been accepted into medical schools are:

Charles Burke - Tufts University School of Medicine, Boston University School of Medicine;

Domenic Vinciguerra - University of Indiana Medical School;

Ronald Van Yserloo - Marquette University Medical School;

Gerry Sweeney - Creighton University School of Medicine;

Joseph DeGrinney - Seton Hall Medical School;

Michael Armstrong - Albany School of Medicine, University of Vermont School of Medicine;

Notably among these, UVM is one of the top med-schools in the country and Indiana accepted only ten non-resident applicants.

Five students, one not a Science Major, accepted into dental school:

John Tardera - Seton Hall Dental School;

Peter Dubois - Seton Hall, Georgetown.

Thomas Derosier - Georgetown University School of Dentisty;

Paul Carbonneau - Georgetown and Seton Hall. Paul is the only student, non-bio, who has been admitted this year from the college.

One student has been accepted into graduate schoolin Bio-chemistry: Richard Michaud - University of Vermont.

One student has been accepted into law school: Robert Rinaldi - New York Law School and Brooklyn Law School.

Also seven students left after their junior or sophomore years to enter dental school: Armand Siconolfi, Peter Manis, John Bilodeau, Dino Costantini, Phil Gorman, Edward Zak and Patrick Curtin.

It should be noted that this is but a partial list of acceptances. Quite a number of others are still waiting for a reply to aplications. Some of these have an excellent chance of admittance to med-school and most can probably gain entrance to gradschool.

Richard Michaud received a fellowship from the University of Vermont.

Band At AFB; Play And Tour

On Saturday morning, Feb. 9, the ROTC Band of St. Michael's College left campus for Saranac Lake, N.Y., to participate in the annual Winter Carnival held there. They arrived in Saranac at about 10.

At 1 they marched in the parade in beautiful sunshiny weather with the temperature in the mid-twenties. Following the parade each unit played two selections in the Town Hall. St. Michael's unit, conducted by James Beames, played marches by Sousa. They were "High School Cadets," and "Stars and Stripes Forever".

Saturday night saw a spaghetti dinner at the Saranac hotel followed by the formal ball for anyone who wanted to attend.

The group left at 9 A.M. Sunday for their return trip and attended Mass at Plattsburgh Air Force Base. They also had a guided tour around the base, seeing the flight line, an Atlas Missile and a SAC command post. Dinner at the Base followed.

Schenectady Girl Wins Nassau Cruise

One more step was taken in the Junior Class's march to the "greatest Junior Weekend ever." At last Saturday night's basketball game Miss Arlene Chamberland of 908 Attament Ave. Schenectady, N.Y. became the proud winner of a seven day cruise to Nassau when her name was drawn in the traditional Junior Class Fund Raising Drawing.

The next major pre-weekend event will come on April 6, when the frolics of "P-Day" will dominate the campus. This year's "P-Day" will have an advantage over other "P-Days" since it will allow greater student participation as it is falling on a Saturday, just after examinations, and just prior to Easter vacation.

Campus Sisters Have New Superior

The Sisters of St. Martha on campus have a new superior. She is Sister St. Jude who comes from Enfield, N.H., where she worked for the Fathers of La Salette.

Sister St. Jude who succeeds Sister St. Beatrice has been a Sister of St. Martha for 31 years. A native of Sanbornville, N.H., she attended school at Rochester, N.H., and made her first vows in 1932. This is her first assignment as superior.

For 19 years Sister St. Jude was assigned to work in Chicago.

Like all Sisters of St. Martha, her prime vocation is to work in rectories and in institutions to do the domestic work for the clergy.

Founded on Aug. 15, 1883 by Mademoiselle Eleonore Charron, the Sisters of St. Martha have been helping at St. Michael's since 1933. There are 12 sisters at the convent on campus.

Vermont Captures S.M.C. Winter Weekend Ski Meet

The results of the Eastern Intercollegiate Ski Association Class B Championship held over the weekend at St. Michael's College have been declared official as posted.

Thus, the University of Vermont is the winner of the meet with 575.0 points followed by Maine with 565.4.

The standing of the other teams in the meet is: 3. Yale, 563.5; 4. Carleton, 557.3; 5. Syracuse, 499.2; 6. Cornell, 471.3; 7. Army, 452.7; 8. St. Michael's, 419.8; 9. Colby, 388.8; 10. Colgate, 261.7, (No Nordic team); and 11 RPI, 218.1.

A protest as to the starting order of the downhill race, the last event of the meet, prevented meet officials from declaring the official winner of the meet Sunday night.

The five members of the race committee met Monday afternoon to consider the protest and declare the official winner. The committee decided to let the results stand as posted after concluding that the protest was not made in accordance with EISA regulations.

The regulations state that any protest must be made in writing within two hours of the race in question.

Prof. Joe Powers, faculty coordinator of the meet noted that even if the committee could have heard the protest, the final results would not have been affected.

Vermont and Maine will now compete in the class A championship scheduled for Middlebury Feb. 22 and 23.

St. Michael's Goes Underground

by Mike Battenfeld

Moving ahead in the improvement of facilities here on campus St. Michael's College is taking steps to provide air-raid and fall-out shelter facilities for its students. The shelters, part of a nation-wide federal shelter program, will utilize existing buildings, and will be financed by the federal government.

Last summer, the federal government made a survey of the existing buildings on campus in order to determine their suitability for use as fall-out shelters.

The places selected for shelters are the basement lounges of Joyce, Lyons, Alumni and Ryan Halls, and the boiler room in Alliot Hall. The federal government will now license these buildings from the school and, after the erection of shelter signs by the State of Vermont, stock them with supplies, such as, radiological monitoring gear, communications equipment, food, medical supplies, water containers and sanitation facilities.

Thus equipped, the four lounges and the boiler room will provide protection for St. Michael's students and others in the surrounding area.

The first annual Winter Pool Tournament run by game room attendant Dave Gadbois was won by Junior Dave Matt who defeated Jim DeSorrento by a score of 100-86.

The Tournament, which had 38 participants was dominated completely by the Juniors who had all four spots taken in the semi-final round.

In the semifinals Dave Matt defeated Skip Marchisio and Jim DeSorrento defeated "Bucky" Egan.

The finals which was played to an audience of over 100 people started with Dave Matt jumping off into a quick ten ball lead but DeSorrento came right back to tie it all up at 26-26. This is where Matt took complete control of the match and by the twelfth rack Dave was leading 92-63.

DeSorrento then caught fire and at the end of the fifteenth rack Jim was down 99-84 but he was not out of the match yet as it was his shot. But the deficit was just a bit too much to overcome and Dave took the match by a final score of 100-86.

The two key factors which seemed to decide the match was the good position Dave was getting for his shots and whenever Jim started to get moving a bad break would set in.

All in all the tournament provided some exciting pool in a tournament that was well run.

Intramural Hoop Ends, John 'Perry' Goodrow Stars

Now that the intramural basketball season has ended, the final statistics along with the all star team has been announced.

In the league this year there were ten men who managed double figure scoring averages, of which only nine were eligible for the scoring title.

Leading scorer in the league was Freshman Dick Curtiss but he was not eligible for the scoring title or all star team berth because he only played in seven games and the league required appearances in 75% of the games or nine games.

Leading scorer in the league was 6'5" Sophomore John Goodrow who had a fine 13 point per game average. "Perry's" high point games were 22 and 23.

Here are the leagues final statistics:

Name	Games Played	Avg.	Class
J. Goodrow	11	13.0	SOPH.
C. Rogers	11	12.3	JUN.

The first annual all star game in the intramural basketball league took place with Senior coach Kevin Mooney leading his team to a 57-54 victory over coach John Soracco's Reds.

This was a well played ball game in which the Red, paced by Freshman Dick Curtiss and Senior Richie Powers pulled into an early lead and maintained it all the way into the final period.

Entering the last quarter the Red held a seven point lead but a five basket surge by the Mooneymen pushed them into the lead. The Red fought furiously to tie the count up but it was of no use as the Green were just a bit too strong off of the backboards.

Leading scorer in the ball game and the outstanding individual of the contest was Freshman Dick Curtis who had 19 points.

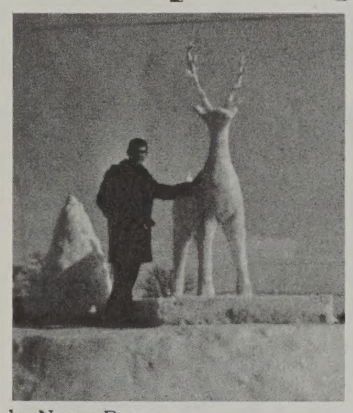
Junior Class Captures Sculpturing Contest



by Norm Parrow

Winter Carnival Weekend has returned to the campus of St. Michael's College and it was a great success.

What was at one time the biggest weekend of the school year on the Hilltop saw a light in the future, a green light telling all the Winter Carnival Weekend will once more be a traditional weekend on the campus. This now past weekend saw more than 200 couples enjoying themselves in all sorts of wintery ways. The weekend began on a cold note with an ice skating party, and although the temperature dropped to well below zero, many Michaelmen and their fair friends were on hand to enjoy themselves.

The next event on the weekend calendar was a sock hop in Alliot Hall. The music of the Starfires and their fast dancing rhythm gave many the opportunity to thaw out some very cold feet. With some very sweet notes coming from a campus group called the Coachmen, a large group of tired dancers caught their breath and had an opportunity to speak with their dates. The Starfires returned, however, and the contests began with very appropriate prizes being awarded to the owners of the loudest socks, the best limboers, and those who could exhibit their dancing abilities with a balloon between his and his date's forehead.

The Town and Country Motel at Stowe became the main scene of attraction on Saturday afternoon and a fine jazz combo came forth with some fine dancing music. Several who made the trek to Mansfield found themselves stranded in mid-air as the double chair life became inoperable while some were in flight. This did not prove to be a point of pleasure to those caught aboard although they were with their dates, as the temperature was very comfortable.

The scene now switched to the Burlington Memorial Auditorium and the Michaelmen were able to show off the Purple Knights to their dates as the cagers humbled Stonehill College's hardcourt aces.

Sunday morning saw some of the more brave Michaelmen and their dates taking in some of the cool Vermont air at the college ski jump. The Winter Carnival Weekend Mass was next on the schedule and this gave the girls a chance to get out of their ski clothes and look a little more formal for once on the weekend.

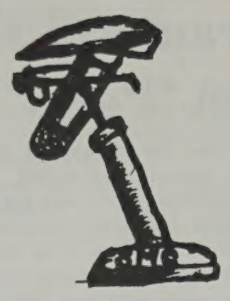
The Michaelman's Mike



by Mike Tranghese

The Purple Knights rose to the occasion. This was the story last Saturday night when St. Michael's entertained and defeated a very good Stonehill unit by the score of 74-62.

Going into this ball game the Knights had dropped two important ball games in a row and the chances of a third loss seemed very likely since there were not too many persons who expected the Saints to come back with perhaps their best performance of the year.

The ball game was a must and two important questions were to be answered by this game. Could the team come back after being pushed down? And would the student body, despite these two losses support the ball club with the same type of enthusiasm they had been exhibiting throughout the season?

The answers to these questions came out as well as anyone could have wanted. The Knights played a fine ball game in disposing of Stonehill and the student body, backed up this ball club as if we were national champions.

Now that the team has overcome this so called crisis, they must hurdle the two weekend obstacles. If there is a ball game that anyone wants to win so badly that they can hardly wait, it is Friday night's encounter with the Catamounts of UVM. Our Knights were defeated badly by the Catamounts in their first meeting at the Vermont gym but this did not prove to me that they are a better ball club and I don't think they proved to the members of our team that they are a better ball club.

Indeed they were the better team the night of our first meeting but Friday is another night, another place and most of all they will be a different team.

Yes, this is a different team, one which is hungry for revenge and who recalls the humiliation that was dealt upon them the last time they met. Must more be said? I think everyone here at St. Mike's knows what the story is and on Friday night the Purple Knights will take the Auditorium floor and square accounts.

Do not think though, that the team will win this game by just thinking so and wanting so because they are going to have to come up with a fine effort in order to beat UVM because the Vermonters would like nothing better than to knock off St. Michael's twice in one season, something that they do not do very often.

This is the obstacle that must be dealt with and I am sure that at the conclusion of Friday night's game the song that is being sung will not be "When the Saints Go Marching Out".

Revengeful Knights Host Vermont And Scrappy A.I.C.

Travelling to the Burlington Auditorium Saturday, the so called powerful University of Vermont freshman team defeated the Saint Michael's College frosh by a score of 78-76 in a game that went into overtime.

UVM opened quickly and jumped into a quick 12-2 lead but SMC behind some fine team foul shooting managed to pull up into a tie with about seven minutes remaining in the half. Then the Squires caught fire as they outscored the Vermonters 13-2 in these last seven minutes and the Markeymen left the hardcourt at halftime with an 11 point lead.

The second half was a wild one in which UVM after struggling the whole half managed to tie the game up with two minutes remaining. Both teams then traded baskets and St. Mike's had possession for the last shot, which they did not even give off.

In the overtime both teams traded baskets and then Joe Vacca notched two free throws to put the Saints into over time.

The turning point of the game then took place as St. Michael's leading rebounder Billy Gaughan fouled out, reducing the team to four men. UVM made two free throws but the Purple with but four men managed to draw a foul and Joe Vacca once again made both tosses. With about a minute left in the overtime, Vermont scored and then gained possession of the ball. The Kittens set up their offense and managed to set up Layne Higgs up for the game winning layup with but ten seconds remaining in the encounter.

A hungry St. Michael's College basketball team, seeking to get back on the winning trail after two straight defeats, defeated a well poised Stonehill quintet by a score of 74-62 Saturday.

Stonehill, which entered the game with a 12-6 record, jumped off into a quick 6 point lead mainly because of the fine shooting of center Bill Munson. The Saints were not to be denied though as they struggled back to tie the score at 23 apiece with eight minutes remaining. At this point the Purple Knights outscored their Massachusetts opponents 18-2 and the scoreboard at halftime read 41-25 in favor of St. Mike's.

Stonehill came out in the second half, seeking to get back in the ball game by means of a zone press but it was to no avail as the Knights managed to stay out in front by at least twelve points at all times.

Leading St. Mike's in the scoring column and playing his best game of the season was Ed Kryger who had 24 points and rebounded well. The Knights also placed three other men in double figures, Richie Tarrant had 16, Walt Baumann had 13 and Eddie McDonnell who played a superb defensive game had 15.

Leading Stonehill in scoring was 6'6" center Bill Munson who had 20 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

End Is Near

After this weekend's two home games, the varsity basketball schedule calls for only one more regular scheduled home game.

During the mid-winter break, the Purple Knights will play host to the powerful Larries of St. Lawrence who currently are sporting a fine 11-4 record. The Saints will be out to seek revenge since it was this ball club who broke up the Saints' seven game winning streak last year. The game is Feb. 23 at 3.

The Knights will then take to the road for a concluding three game road trip starting with Merrimack. Merrimack is sporting an overall record of 12-4 and they would like nothing better than knocking St. Mike's off in revenge for the 90-61 defeat they were handed in the Auditorium last year. One of Merrimack's defeat was a five point decision at the hands of Stonehill, a ballclub that the Saints defeated by 12.

The state of New York will be the scene for the last two games on the schedule. The Saints will be entertained by Adelphi, a powerful quintet, currently in the running for the Tri-state crown and an automatic berth in the regionals. Two opponents that both St. Mike's and Adelphi have played are Stonehill and St. Anselm's. Adelphi defeated St. Anselm's by one up at New Hampshire but they were bombed by 19 points against Stonehill.

Which could be the Purple's final game of the season is the NYAC, a ball club comprised of college graduates. This is an experienced ball club which has lost but one encounter this year. They have defeated such teams as Assumption, St. Anselm's, Williams, and many, many more.

REBOUND: UVM's Ralph D'Atilla clings tightly to rebound as teammate Lawson (50) boxes out Bauman. St. Michael's Bill Cummins (53), Ed Kryger and Bob Hoehl (55) close in play.

Fine Effort

Despite the defeat, Ed Markey and his Freshman team should be praised for the fine effort they came up with this bigger Vermont team. The Squires placed four men in double figures; Phil Taylor had 22; Billy Gaughan and Don Racine had 15 apiece and Kevin Gokey had 10.

Leading Vermont in the scoring column was home stater Layne Higgs who had 22 points many of them in the clutch when it seemed like the Vermonters here about to fold.
